

CRUSHED BY A CAR.

Distressing Accident on West Tuscarawas Street Which Resulted Fatally.

FOURTEEN-YEAR-OLD BOY

Went Under the Wheels and Was Taken to Aultman Hospital.

CAR WAS PUSHING A TRAILER

When the Accident Occurred—The Pony Which Fred Phelps Was Riding Was Killed, and the Lad Himself Died in a Few Hours.

A distressing accident occurred Wednesday morning about 10 o'clock at the intersection of West Tuscarawas street and Bedford avenue, near the old ball grounds. As a result, Fred Phelps, a 14 year old boy living in South Cleveland avenue, is cold in death and the pony which he was riding was instantly killed.

Young Phelps had started for the fair grounds, riding horseback on his pony and when near Bedford avenue met a motor car, pushing a trailer, coming into the city.

The pony became frightened and jumped on the track in front of the oncoming street car. Motorman Rinehart took in the situation and at once reversed his current and stopped the car, but not until the pony was knocked down and instantly killed, and young Phelps thrown under the wheels of the trailer.

The wheels passed over both young Phelps' legs, just above the knees. The car was running at about one half speed and was quickly stopped.

Phelps was taken from under the car and carried to the Aultman hospital, a few blocks away, where he was given medical attention.

He was perfectly conscious but could give no account of the accident.

When taken to the hospital, a hasty examination was made by the physicians and it was found that the amputation of both limbs above the knee would be the only chance at saving the lad's life. He was given an anesthetic and both limbs were amputated. The shock and the loss of blood was too great and he never recovered from the anesthetic and died shortly after 12 o'clock.

Fred Phelps was a son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Phelps, of 624 South Cleveland avenue, and Mr. Phelps is the superintendent of the Cold Storage company, in North Piedmont street, between Fourth and Fifth streets. The parents of the little boy are deeply grieved over their loss and can hardly realize that their boy, who left them in the morning for a pleasant day at the children's exercises at the fair, now lies cold in death. Mr. Phelps, father of the boy, is just recovering from a severe siege of typhoid fever and yesterday was the first day he was able to be out of his room and the accident today has completely prostrated him.

HOME WEDDING.

Miss Grace Stands and James Cherry United in Marriage Wednesday.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Levi H. Stands, at their home 427 Park avenue, Wednesday evening at 6:30. The bride was their daughter, Miss Grace B. Stands, who took as her life companion, Mr. James Cherry, an employee of the Hampden works.

About thirty guests were present, all being immediate relatives of the contracting parties. The home was tastefully decorated with cut flowers, and when the hour arrived Mr. Cherry and Miss Stands, with their attendants, appeared keeping time with the inspiring strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march. They took their place under an arch of entwined pinks, and the words were spoken that made them man and wife. Dr. C. W. Harshman officiated, assisted by Rev. James L. Fish, an uncle of the groom, of West Grafton, W. Va. The ring service was used, and it was a very pretty ceremony.

After congratulations had been showered upon the newly-wedded pair, a rich wedding supper was served, to which all did ample justice.

The bride was dressed in pink crepon with a satin sash, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. She is an accomplished young lady, popular in social and church circles of the west end, and it can well be said that no more popular young couple than Mr. and Mrs. Cherry could be found in the city.

They took the 9:27 night train for Toledo, and will enjoy a ten day's tour of the lake regions.

The out-of-town guests present were: Mr. Alex. Postlewait, wife and daughter of Orrville; Mrs. Mary Bourman, son and daughter, of Cuy-

WILL CONSTRUCT THE RAILWAY.

That Is the Appearance of Matters at This Time.

A NEW LINE TO ALLIANCE.

County Commissioners Have Granted the Franchise and Insist That Work Be Done At An Early Date.

Tuesday afternoon a franchise was granted the Stark Electric Railway company for the construction of an electric line from Canton to Alliance, via Louisville, a distance of 18 miles.

This is the same company that a few years ago secured a franchise and by reason of time forfeited its rights. Upon securing the necessary funds and getting ready to build, they asked for a renewal of the franchise and it was granted.

The franchise gives the Stark Electric Railway company the right to construct, maintain and operate upon the public highway or private property, on the Canton, Louisville and Maximo road, commencing at the east corporation line of Canton, at the east end of Lake street, running thence to Alliance, a single track railway, with all necessary side tracks, switches and spurs.

Cars are to be run every hour from 6 a. m. to 10 p. m., and be equipped with heating apparatus, lights, etc. The track is to run at the side of the road in the country districts, the outside rail not to be nearer than 15 feet to the center of the roadway.

The road is to be equipped for and is granted the privilege of carrying passengers, freight, farm produce, express and mail. Construction is to begin by November 1, 1900, and by May 1, 1901, $20,000 must have been expended by the company.

By October 1, 1901, the road must be completed and in operation or the franchise is to be forfeited.

All bridges, culverts, ditches, etc., necessary along the route are to be built by said Stark Electric company, and streets and roads are to be restored to and kept in as good condition as prior to the building of the road.

The franchise is signed only by Commissioners J. B. Sumner and L. W. Johnson, Commissioner P. B. Crawford not having fixed his signature to the instrument. It was signed on behalf of the company by R. R. Jacobs, of Waynesburg, who is secretary of the company.

Mr. Charles R. Miller, president of the board of trade, said, when seen by a News-Democrat reporter, that the construction of this line meant an outlay of nearly $200,000. It is estimated that roads of this kind cost about $10,000 per mile. The capital, Mr. Miller said, would come from Chicago parties, and no local people were connected with it, nor was the Canton-Massillon company interested, except that they had traffic arrangements made with the new company to bring their cars into Canton over the Mahoning street line.

The road will be a good business feeder for Canton, and will prove of inestimable value to property owners all along the line.

Appreciate Enterprise.

"This place needs more men like Zollinger," remarked a Canton resident as he gazed at the handsome new structure on the public square to be occupied by William R. Zollinger & Co. This opinion is echoed by the majority of the citizens of the city. Live, up-to-date merchants are a great aid to the community and the enterprise shown by this progressive firm is appreciated by everybody.

seems to be conclusive proof that the entire ridge extending from Main street south to West Oxford street and perhaps farther, has beneath it a fine field of natural gas.

How lasting it may prove, of course, no one can now tell, but expert gas men believe the gas is in constant process of manufacture, hence not liable to give out, as is the case in some fields of greater pressure.

The Review is informed that Mr. F. C. Marchand has been offered $15,000 for his property, but same was declined.

The remains will be interred in Rowland cemetery, the time of the funeral to be announced later.

BOOKS FOR THE FARMER.

State Library Commission Is Now in Position to Furnish Agricultural Literature.

The Ohio Library Commission offers to the farmers of the state, through its system of free traveling libraries (established in 1896), an opportunity to study agriculture which it is believed will be widely embraced.

The books of the traveling libraries are loaned under proper regulations, to existing libraries, to granges, to farmers' clubs and other organizations. During the past four years 1289 of these libraries embracing 34,968 volumes in all departments of study have been sent out, and the total circulation to date is estimated at over 250,000 volumes.

These books have gone for the most part to the farming communities of the state, or to towns and villages not yet supplied with local libraries.

Farming, wisely followed, affords large opportunities for reading and investigation. The long winter nights by the fireside are proverbial as offering time for study. Strong inducements are now presented by granges, reading circles, etc., with the aid of books furnished by the state, to spend those quiet hours in the satisfying mental exercise of reading upon the daily problems of farm life.

The books provided for this purpose by the Library Commission are such as are, in the opinion of experts, best adapted to the needs, either of those who wish to do a thorough course of reading in agriculture or of those who are interested in some particular branch. They have been carefully selected by Prof. Thomas F. Hunt, Dean of the College of Agriculture, Ohio State University, and are designed to cover the following subjects: Soils and Farm Crops, Horticulture, Forestry and Landscape Gardening, Farm Management and Equipment, Animal Husbandry, Dairying, and Domestic Economy.

Lists of these books and further information, including blanks and instructions for securing a Traveling Library will be furnished upon application to the Library Commission at Columbus.

WILSON COMES TO SEE OUR FAIR.

Secretary of Agriculture Arrives in the City Today.

McKINLEY WAS EXPECTED, TOO.

But Rush of Public Business Keeps Him in Washington—Secretary Lehman Receives a Message From Cortelyou.

James Wilson, secretary of agriculture in President McKinley's cabinet, arrived in the city Thursday morning and is a guest at the Stark county fair grounds, where the annual fair is now in session.

Secretary Wilson arrived over the Pennsylvania lines from Washington at 9:58 and was met at the station by a reception committee consisting of Andrew Pontius, president of the Agricultural society; J. H. Lehman, secretary; H. C. Elson, of Waynesburg; Hon. S. A. Conrad, of Massillon, and John R. Poyser. The party were immediately driven to the fair grounds where Secretary Wilson made an address.

It was expected that President McKinley would be back from Washington to take part in the exercises on Thursday but he was unable to leave Washington. Secretary Lehman received the following telegram from George B. Cortelyou, secretary to the president, this morning:

Executive Mansion, Washington, D. C., Sept. 6.—

J. H. Lehman, secretary: The president regrets that pressing public business here will prevent him from having the pleasure which he had anticipated of meeting his old Stark county friends at the agricultural fair. He desires that you convey to all his regrets and good wishes.

GEORGE B. CORTELYOU.
The above telegram was read from the grand stand just before Secretary Wilson started his address.

INFIRMARY DIRECTORS.

Disposal of Bodies of Paupers Comes Up at Their Meeting Wednesday Afternoon.

When the infirmiry directors were in session Wednesday afternoon, a News-Democrat man dropped into their meeting in search of news, and was informed that they were doing only routine business, the subject under discussion being whether or not to pay certain extras charged in a bill for the burial of some dependent soul who had died, and whose friends had ordered additional trappings for the casket, which almost doubled the expense.

The opinion of the board was that the bill for extras would not be allowed, as it would not be wise to establish a precedent which would lead to much trouble and expense. It was decided to treat all alike.

The conversation lead to a discussion of the disposal of the bodies of paupers, and a question was asked regarding the law compelling the directors to turn the bodies of paupers over to medical colleges.

Said Mr. Reese:

"The infirmiry directors have no choice in the matter. The law explicitly says that the bodies shall be held 30 hours by the directors, and if friends do not come forward and arrange to pay the funeral expenses, then upon demand of any agent of a regular medical college of the state, the bodies shall be delivered to said agent to be sent to the college for dissection."

"How many do the colleges secure ordinarily during a year from Stark county?"

"A very small per cent. go to the college," said Mr. Reese. "I do not like the law, and would rather put in a day notifying friends than see the bodies taken away, and a great many are saved this fate. The Cleveland Medical college gets the bodies from this county, averaging from one to three a year, and sometimes a year goes by without its securing any. Local agents of the college watch for the deaths, and when any good subject dies they make a demand for the body and the law compels us to give it up unless the funeral expenses are provided for. The bodies of aged persons as a rule are not wanted. It is said that the agents get $25 for each body they furnish."

This is a provision of law not generally known by the public, and Mr. Reese's remarks will enlighten many News-Democrat readers. The law was enacted to put a stop to ghouls robbing graves and it has had that effect, for infirmaries, charity hospitals and public morgues seem to supply enough bodies for dissection, and grave-robbing is very rare. Indeed it is not done at all except in cases where the doctors want to get possession of some subject who has died of a disease that has mystified the medics.

Though admitting the good it does in medical science, there are many who think that the unfortunate ones of earth should have the same safe-guard about their tombs that the self-supporting ones enjoy.

GAGE TALKS ABOUT BRYAN.

Makes Public His Reply to Carl Schurz's Letter

ON THE FREE SILVER QUESTION.

Doesn't Retract Anything and Has the Temerity to Think Bryan Should Do Some Retracting.

[News-Democrat Leased Wire Service.]

Washington, Sept. 5.—Secretary of the Treasury Gage, made public today his reply to the letter of Carl Schurz in which the secretary was criticised for the open expression in a recent interview, that Mr. Bryan, if elected president, could by the exercise of considerable perverse ingenuity, put the government on a silver basis.

Gage concludes his discussion of the matter by replying as follows to the suggestion of Schurz that in fairness to the community he should retract what he said:

"Thinking as I do that the election of Mr. Bryan would be a real menace to the commercial and industrial interests of our people, because of the purpose he cherishes and the power he hopes to possess, I would not feel at liberty to act on the suggestion.

"I feel it my duty to at least wait until after Mr. Bryan himself has retracted his statement of 1896, that the gold standard will not be maintained in this country, 'longer than I am able to get rid of it.'"

SHORTEST ON RECORD.

Union Reformers Hold a State Convention That Lasts Exactly Five Minutes.

Columbus, Sept. 6.—Dr. R. S. Thompson, of Springfield, who is the Union Reform party leader, assembled about 100 of his followers here last evening and held the shortest state convention on record. It lasted five minutes by the clock. There was no need of adopting a platform, for the single plank of initiative and referendum is a permanent party principle. And it took but a moment to ratify formally the following state ticket:

For secretary of state, Frank Frankenberg, Columbus; for supreme judge, L. D. Logan, Alliance; for state food and dairy commissioner, William F. Barr, Brice; for state school commissioner, William F. Seelye, Wooster; for member of state board of public works, Rei Rathbun, Springfield; for electors at large, Jephth Girard, Cincinnati, and Joseph Evans, Oriskany.

Girard is a millionaire; Evans is a coal miner, who works for day wages. Seth W. Ellis, former state food commissioner, who has just been nominated as the Union Reform candidate for president, was present, and received formal notification of his nomination from Dr. Thompson, chairman of the national committee.

The Union Reformers declined to fraternize with Dr. Abner Davis, of Findlay, and Judge L. W. Brown, of Wauseon, who had called the anti-imperialistic conference. Dr. Thompson declared Brown and Davis were outcasts; were no longer recognized as Union Reformers, and were practically Bryan men and Democrats, though they posed as independents. Accordingly, contrary to expectation, the Union Reformers declined to have anything to do with the so-called anti-imperialistic conference.

COOK FOR CIRCUIT JUDGE.

Nominated By the Seventh Judicial District Convention at Steubenville.

Steubenville, Ohio, September 6.—The Republican Circuit Court Convention for the Seventh Judicial Circuit, embracing the counties of Ashtabula, Belmont, Carroll, Columbiana, Geauga, Guernsey, Harrison, Jefferson, Lake, Mahoning, Monroe, Noble, Portage and Trumbull, met in this city yesterday and nominated Hon. John M. Cook, of Steubenville, for Circuit Judge, vice Judge Frasier, whose term expires. James M. Rees, of Belmont county, and John Truitt, of Guernsey, who were candidates withdrew their names, making Cook's nomination unanimous. The sensation of the day was the speech of James M. Kennedy, of Youngstown, who answered the speech made recently by Judge P. A. Laube, of the recent state bar meeting at Put-in-Bay. Judge Kennedy was very bitter in his attack.
